TREASURE TROVE EXTRAORDINARY

A Couple of Walkers in the Sewers of New York—"Pay Dirt" Struck Heavily—Diamonds by the Bushel.

New York correspondence Erie Dispatch.]

Several years ago a little German Jew named Schwartz, believing that in the sewers of New York might be found many articles of value which had been lost, entered them, and for three days wandered through the labyrinth. He was very successful, picking up some $27,000 worth of jewelry, spoons, forks, etc., but having lost his way the first day, he believed that he might have found much more could he have carried out the original plan, which was to visit Fifth and Madison avenues, Broadway, and the wealthy portions of the city.

So great, however, were the difficulties and dangers which he encountered, that nothing could induce him again to visit "New York underground." His adventure for a time created quite a little sensation, but there were none venturous enough to attempt a second, until Wednesday of last week, when an adventurous party of three entered the sewer of Houston street, at the ferry on East river, intending to remain for one week, during which time they proposed visiting every portion of the city where there seemed to be any chance of finding treasure trove. The party consisted of Miss Mary Walker, a young lady of eighteen, her brother James, aged sixteen, and Michael Grady, an old man of about fifty. The project originated with Miss Walker, and the "how" of it is in this wise:

Some two years ago James Walker, Jr., was a merchant, doing a good business at 991 Bowery. He was getting rich fast, but in an evil hour he was prevailed upon by friends (?) to use some of his money which had been "salted down," in speculating in gold. The result was easy to be foreseen. He lost. To recover he took money from his business. Again he lost. His business became embarrassed; in despair he committed suicide, and Miss Walker and her brother found themselves six months ago the inhabitants of a room on the upper floor of a double tenement, 209 Sixth street. Miss Walker, some months ago, in an old paper, wrapped around a parcel which she was taking home from a "slop shop," saw an account of Schwart's undertaking, and resolved to imitate it. Maps were obtained and the city studied carefully.

Each day's work for herself, her brother and Grady, who was formerly in her father's employ, was carefully marked out. Every preparation which limited knowledge could prepare for was made, and the adventurers started. I wish that I might have room to tell the story of the week they passed, but my manuscript warns me that I must condense. Each day they rendezvoused several times in the chambers of the street corners. On Sunday they had filled all the bags they had taken with them, some fifteen in number, and Miss Walker returned. James Walker and Grady continued their search, emptying six of their bags at the corner of Twenty-second street and Fifth avenue.

On Wednesday morning at a very early hour, and before people were stirring, Miss Walker was at the place with a wagon. On removing the iron plate, which at each street corner leads into a small chamber connecting with the sewer, she found her brother, but not Grady. He had started off on another trip, although the six bags had been filled in Madison avenue. The loose treasure was placed in extra bags and the whole driven to a Broadway jeweller's. The rest were taken from the places on Thursday morning. A watch was set for Grady, but up to this time of writing nothing has been heard from him, and it is feared that he has perished.

The result of the week's search is roughly estimated at $1,500,000. I saw the treasures yesterday, piled in three heaps on the floor, and the jeweller informed me that it must have cost over $3,000,000, but in consequence of the old fashioned style of setting, its bruised, battered and corroded condition, its value was reduced about one-half. A little over a bushel (how queer it seems to talk of jewelry by the bushel) has been sorted, and among it has been found one diamond, valued at $16,000, two more valued at $5000, and half a dozen valued at $3000 and upwards.

The most curious is a plain gold ring, inscribed on the inside in Dutch "Peter Stuyvesant to wife." It is an heir-loom of the Stuyvesants, and was stolen, with other jewelry, last March, by burglars. How it came in the sewer is a problem for philosophers to speculate about. Miss Walker and her brother, who find themselves thus suddenly lifted from penury to great wealth, intend to proceed to England, where they have relatives. This adventure is talked of everywhere, and already there are others preparing to follow in their footsteps.

THE MOLE.

Dull and sombre as the mole appears to be, it is by far the fiercest and most active animal within the British isles. Indeed, so remarkable is it for both these qualities, that I doubt whether the great fear of tropical climates can equal it either in ferocity, activity or voracity. From seeing the animal eat, I can readily conceive the fury with which it must be animated when it fights, and can perfectly appreciate the truth of the assertion that in has been observed to fling itself upon a small bird, tear its body open, and to devour it while still palpitating with life. Nothing short of this fiery energy could sustain an animal in the life long task of forcing itself through the solid earth; and it may well be imagined that when two male moles of equal strength happen to meet, the combat must be of the most furious kind. Size is only of relative importance; and, in point of fact, a battle between two moles is as tremendous as between two lions, if not more so, because the mole is more courageous than the lion, and, relatively speaking, is far more powerful, and armed with weapons far more destructive.

Magnify the mole to the size of the lion and you will have a beast more terrible than the world has yet seen. Though nearly blind, and therefore incapable of following prey by sight, it would be active beyond conception, springing this way and that way as it goes along, so as to cover a large amount of space, leaping with lightning quickness upon any animal which it met, rending it to pieces in a moment, thrusting its blood-thirsty snout into the body of its victim, eating the still warm and bleeding flesh, and instantly searching for fresh prey. Such a creature would, without the least hesitation, devour a serpent twenty feet in length, and so terrible would be its voracity that it would eat twenty or thirty such snakes in a day. With one grasp of its teeth and one stroke of its claws it could tear an ox asunder; and if it should happen to enter a fold of sheep or an inclosure of cattle it would kill them all for mere lust of slaughter. There are many burrowing animals, but the mole is emphatically the burrower, and absolutely riots in the exuberance of animal spirits and muscular activity, passing through the earth almost like fish through the water, and giving to its strange and apparently sombre life a poetry and interest which we fail to find in the lives of many creatures more richly endowed with external beauty. Homes Without Hands.

English Trade Movements.

The spinners and manufacturers of Ramsbottom, England, at a meeting held on the 15th ult., determined to run four days a week for one month, when they would hold another meeting. The decision affects 130,000 spindles and 4000 looms. There are 100,000 spindles and 1200 looms entirely stopped in the same district.

A melancholy incident is related of the empress of Mexico. Some little time ago, while still laboring under the delusion that she was being poisoned, she was visited by the queen of Naples, and looking steadily at her, said: "Ah! how you are changed! I see they are all slowly poisoning you. What a change! What a change!" "Could anything," adds the Contemporary Review, "be more sad than such a meeting of the two unfortunate queens!"

The American Cent.

The first copper cent was proposed in 1782 by Robert Morris, the great financier of the revolution, and was named by Jefferson, two years later. It began to make its appearance from the mint in 1792. It then bore the head of Washington on one side and a chain of thirteen links on the other. The French revolution soon after created a rage for French ideas in America, which put on the cent, instead of the head of Washington, the head of the goddess of liberty—a French liberty, with neck thrust forward and flowing locks. The chain on the reverse was replaced by the orange wreath of peace. But the French liberty was short-lived, and so was her portrait on our cent. In its stead, a staid classic dame, with finely chiselled Grecian features, and a fillet round her hair, came into fashion forty or fifty years ago, and continued until about ten years since, when the much smaller and more convenient nickel cent appeared, with a flying eagle in the place of liberty's head, in order that it might not be mistaken for the five dollar gold piece. In the present new cent the liberty head has been restored.

Since the expiration of the copyright cheap editions of some of the Waverly novels have been issued in London at the nominal price of sixpence each, but sold at many of the shops at retail for fourpence-half-penny. They are well printed, and on good paper, and perfectly legible.

SECRETARY STANTON'S SUCCESSOR.

For some months past but little has been said upon the retirement of Secretary STANTON, from the War Office at Washington; yet there seems to be a general expectation, that such an event will occur in the early part of this year. So far as we have any interest in this matter, we might be content that the present incumbent should remain in office, rather than incur the risk of getting some one less qualified for the position, or less inclined to serve the country rather than a faction; were we not fully impressed with the belief that the President would make a judicious selection. As to the manner in which Secretary STANTON has performed the duties of his office, it is foreign to our present purpose to consider: We leave him to the tender mercies of posterity and to the stern justice of history. The American people, at present, feel an interest only in the character of his successor. In discussing this subject the Portland (Me.) Advertiser says: "He should combine views of national policy, domestic and foreign, coincident to those of the President; be under the guidance of conservative inclinations, and freedom from ultraism, and imbued with a love of country wholly above party. He should not be obnoxious in his antecedents, to the dominant party in Congress, nor yet subservient to that party at the expense of Executive judgment and dignity. Congress can afford to be forbearing at this time toward honest difference of opinion, if not directed by an insulting obstinacy. In his official intercourse with all, whether officials or unofficials, the new Secretary of War should possess the suaviter in modo of the gentleman, as well as 'decision of character, and know how to display each appropriately. And more especially should he be exempt from all alliance with outside 'rings,' whether political or financial. We agree perfectly with our contemporary as to the qualifications necessary to the person who should be called to this position in the event it becomes vacant. The only question now is, Who fills this description—in such an imminent degree as to designate him as the individual of all others for the position? The Advertiser suggests the name of Col. TAL. P. SHAFFNER, of Kentucky. Col. SHAFFNER possesses ability, experience, knowledge of the world, together with considerable literary talent, and altogether is probably quite as well qualified to perform the duties of the office as any one who could be selected. To say that he is from Kentucky and that he did not bear arms in the cause of the South, and yet that he is not obnoxious to the Southern people, is possibly saying more than could safely be affirmed of any one else similarly circumstanced. With our present light on this subject, we are inclined to think the Advertiser is not far wrong; but in regard to this, as to all other matters of public import, we hold ourselves open to conviction and willingly submit our judgment to those whose situation better fit them to decide.

RELIEF FOR THE CRETANS.

The Central Cretan Committee, of Athens, has issued a letter in behalf of the famishing Candians. In speaking of the similar destitution of Greece during its struggle for independence, the letter says:

The American people, with the cordial concurrence of the American government, by the supplies of food and clothing they sent to Greece, saved thousands of Greek families from starvation and prevented the dispersion of Greek armies still making head against Turkish oppression and barbarism.

Quoting this portion of the letter, a Chicago cotemporary points to the ready aid given by Boston, and calls upon Chicago to be swift in following the example of the "hub," which, he says, is "never slow in good works." We heartily commend this spirit, so far as it goes, and cordially say God speed to all who struggle for freedom—no matter in what land—and we readily recognize the claims of suffering humanity upon the charities of this people. But in considering the manner in which this appeal is being met in Chicago, we cannot choose but remember how a like tale of woe and suffering, in our own land and at their very doors, was borne on wings of mercy to the luxurious homes of that stately city, and how the pitying spirits who bore it were scorned, and scoffed, and spat upon, and finally told to feed the starving little ones of this poor land, upon the empty, mocking hopes of the dead and buried passed. The miserable victims of their insatiate thirst for revenge, of their ungodly lust, and of their whining, canting, hypocritical professions of devotion to christianity and to freedom, asked them for bread, and they gave them a stone. Yet in the face of all this they have the sublime assurance to boast their charity toward the Cretans. God forbid that we should ever neglect the call of suffering humanity—no matter whence it comes! But this arrogation of self-righteousness is so glaring, so outrageous, that we cannot pass it without comment.

FLETCHER'S MILITIA.

Our Missouri exchanges continue to be filled with accounts of the outrages committed by the troops lately ordered out by Gov. FLETCHER, but now recalled. Robberies, murders and arsons meet the eye in every line. The Republican, always extremely cautious, does not hesitate to charge the governor with all kinds of villainous designs against the peace and dignity of the state. He is charged with the desire to gratify the malignity of his Lafayette partisans who had lately been defeated at the polls; with complicity in a plot to create the belief in Wall street that Missouri is in a state of war, and required the application of martial law, the object being to impair the value of the state bonds, so that they could be bought cheaper by those who are supposed to be connected with him in his nefarious transactions; and also with calling out the militia in order to establish a reputation for summarily dealing with the rebels, the object being to secure a seat in the United States senate. We hope that we have heard the last of FLETCHER and his thieves.

SLIGHT CHECKS ON THE IMPERTINENCE OF CONGRESS.

Two things have occurred within the last few days which go to show that the President still possesses a mite of that independence which is so necessary to the proper discharge of the duties of his office, and for which our people have so long been inclined to give him credit. The one, is his message vetoing the District of Columbia Suffrage Bill; and the other his refusal to comply with the insolent and impertinent call of the house for the correspondence relative to the joint occupancy of the island of San Juan, in Washington territory. The reason assigned by the President is quite conclusive, and is the one put in his mouth by the constitution: that it is not deemed advisable at the present juncture.

Advices from Springfield, Ill., indicate that Palmer will be elected senator as a reward for his sufferings at the hands of the Kentucky judiciary.—Dispatches of yesterday.

Well done for Illinois. We have later advices from Kentucky, however, which say that the good people of the "dark and bloody ground," propose, about next August, to elect to office a few of the many victims of PALMER's unbridled despotism, as a reward for their sufferings at the hands of this petty tyrant, this contemptible military jackalent.

BEN. F. LOAN, OF MISSOURI.

We see that this individual has introduced certain resolutions into the lower house of congress for the impeachment of the president, etc. Be it known to our readers that we have the misfortune to know something of this miserable creature who has the temerity to come before the American people as the representative man of the proud old state of Missouri; and that the said LOAN was never recognized among gentlemen, or countenanced by decent people in the town of St. Joseph, Missouri, where he resides; and that he was never known to be invited to the house of any gentleman within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. A pot house pettyfogging lawyer, is this BEN. F. LOAN who now brings to the bar of public justice the chief magistrate of this great republic. God save us from such legislators!

KENTUCKY GENEROSITY.

Read the beautiful tribute paid to the Good Samaritan, Kentucky, by her sister state, Georgia:

When, in some future year of prosperity and ease, Georgia is reconing up those who were kind to her in her days of trial she will write not least in her grateful list the good people of Kentucky. Blest with an abundant harvest, while our own fields bore but a scanty return for the means expended, these far-off brethren have shared their plenty with us and carried joy into many a household among our people where, but for them, the gaunt form of want might have slowly transformed itself into the skeleton spectre of starvation. Little as we who dwell in this pleasant city may think it, there are many within the borders of this very state who have had more than a glimpse into that arid land. There are crippled and helpless veterans, soldiers' widows, and the little ones of the unfortunate and the brave who, by many painful causes not necessary to mention, have actually wanted bread. Once we can remember when such an assertion would have had no credit—when to have stated that there was so much as a hound dog in Georgia that did not get enough to eat would have challenged denial, and indeed been hard to prove. But with the pleasant and plentiful past before the war there passed away also the ground for this proud boast—that there was no native beggar in the state. Belisarius, after commanding legions and certain victorious armies in the field, was by one of fortune's spiteful turns brought to sit by the roadside and entreat the wayfarer for the smallest coin. And such also has in effect been the fate of many another brave and true spirit from this cruel war. Men, women and children who once took no more thought of their daily bread than the robin that sings on the fruit tree, have come to feel as cruel pinches as any European vagrant that ever begged his way, gaunt and hollow-eyed, through the streets of a northern seaboard city. In this poverty there was, heaven knows, no shame. Cowardly compliance would have insured a lifetime of at least moderate comfort and safety, but casting the spirit of ancient love of country and everything upon the die, this poverty that comes from overthrow, while it may inflict pain, can never stamp dishonor.

Brought face to face with popular destitution, the state did what it could. Its aid was freely given, but as great bodies move slow, and there is ever an indispensable amount of difficulty and delay in public charity, great suffering would have resulted had it not been for generous benefactions from abroad. Then the state got her relief machinery into operation, and was enabled to administer a very substantial measure of aid. Now, however, with the dead of winter approaching, there is need for more bread and meat, more meal and bacon, and foremost in the van of good samaritans stand the people of Kentucky, with open hand, giving to our poor freely and without stint. Well done, then, for the commonwealth of hunter Boone. The pure gold, as says the proverb, will show, and though there were hard thoughts once among us about Kentucky—the offspring, doubtless, as are now many bitter feelings, of ignorance—and Kentucky neutrality pointed many scornful jests, we can now read her tone and temper better in the light of a charity that remembers the poor. For some time past substantial aid in no little quantity has come to our notice as forwarded from that state, and as a just meed of gratitude and one we doubt not grateful to the many among us who have so well upheld their mother's ancient fame, we say Our Hand, Kentucky—it would seem, a blessing light upon thee, as though thou hadst determined in regard to our unfortunates, as Bill Arp did with his children—"Poor things, they shan't eat roots and drink branch water no more."

Adjourned.

At the eighth of January banquet, under the auspices of the national democratic executive committee, at the National hotel, there were about 150 guests present, consisting of democratic senators and seventeen members, Texas senators and members, and delegations from several of the excluded states. President Johnson entered at fifteen minutes to nine, amid cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs, and was seated on the right of the venerable F. P. Blair. The table was sumptuous, and the room decorated with flags, among others Jackson's flag at New Orleans. The regular toasts at the Jackson banquet were:

1. The day we celebrate, and the great event which made it a cherished nation's anniversary.
2. The memory of Andrew Jackson.
3. The federal union, it must be preserved.
4. Andrew Johnson, the president of the United States. He is now receiving the full measure of that vituperation which was once meted out quite as lavishly to Jefferson and Jackson.
5. The supreme court of the United States, the great conservative power of the government, never more needed or better appreciated than now.
6. The conservative members of each branch of congress knowing themselves to be in the right, let them never be wrong in well doing.
7. The army and navy, without having contributed to the cause of the late civil war, have ever been ready to mar the most extreme hazards at the call of duty, they will not now hesitate to protect that union of all the states which they have done so much to preserve.
8. The flag of the Union, with its thirty-six stars intact; palsied be the traitor's hand that would strike one of that number from its consecrated place.
9. The Federal constitution: amendable only in the way prescribed by itself, it cannot be changed by a mere congressional majority.
10. The right of representation in both branches of congress one of the most invaluable and most unquestionable of all those which are secured in the great federal compact.
11. The states of the American union, their rights under the constitution are indestructible.
12. The right of coercion when it exists it involves the corelative duty of fraternity and protection. The state which cannot voluntarily secede, cannot against its will be prevented from occupying its usual place in the union with all its guaranteed rights and privileges fully preserved.
13. The veto power, a constitutional safeguard against unwise and improvident legislation.
14. The press, the most efficient guardian and defender of public liberty, let it be cherished and sustained as an institution indispensable to the successful administration of a free government.
15. The women of America.

LIGHT HOUSE NON EXPLOSIVE OIL.—We offer to the public this celebrated Oil, and in doing so we unhesitatingly pronounce it superior to any burning oil in use. It is

Non-Explosive;
Free from Grease;
It will not grease the hands;
It will not soil or grease the clothing;
It is more brilliant than Gas;
It produces a soft and beautiful light;
It is not so trying to the eyes.
It can be used in any Kerosene Lamp by changing or altering the Burner.

It has been most favorably received, and pronounced by judges to be the best and most reliable Oil now in the market; and in consequence of the many serious accidents arising from the explosion of kerosene, this oil is extensively known and used in preference.

We are now prepared to furnish the trade with this valuable Oil, and we solicit from the public an examination and trial. First premium awarded at the Louisiana State Fair, held in New Orleans, from November [illegible] to 27, 1866 against all competitors. AN UNEXCEPTIONABLE HOTEL.—We dined yesterday at the Overton, and can cheerfully add our testimony to that of the many guests, to the extreme good taste which characterizes every department of this well kept hotel. The rooms are supplied with every modern appliance for comfort, and Lucullus, or George the IV. could not have caviled at the cuisine, or the extent and variety of the larder.

LOST, STOLEN OR STRAYED.—Some ten days ago six bales of cotton were landed from the steamer St. Patrick and put on drays No. 755 and 699, the same to be delivered at the warehouse of Delap & Co., No. 212 Front street, at which place it has not yet arrived. Information has been lodged with the authorities and if the delinquents have not left the city they will probably ere long be brought up with a round turn. The above is only one of the many instances of the like nature that has lately come to our notice. If a few of these non-failing gentry were sent to Nashville for the short term it might be productive of much good.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF THE TURNER'S SOCIETY.—At the annual election of officers of the "Turnverin," of this city, on the 6th of this month, the following gentlemen were elected: P. Walser, first speaker; Franz Millard, second speaker; S. Harpman, recording secretary; Dr. R. L. Laski, corresponding secretary; Wm. Koch, teacher of gymnastic (turnwart); L. Leopold, second turnwart; F. W. Louis, treasurer; Theo. Seubold, zeugwart.

CITY COUNCIL.

Passage of the Police Appropriation Bill.

THE SUM SET AT $125 000.

At a special meeting of the board of mayor and aldermen last evening, there were present—Mayor Leftand, Chairman Hulburt, Aldermen Powers, Johnson, Shaw, Wickersham, Lynn, Bolling, Holt, O'Donnell, Cochrane, Townsend, Lemon, Smith and Passmore. The meeting was called for the purpose of taking into consideration the amount of money which should be allowed for the payment of the present police force; how, and in which way. The board having been called to order, Alderman Bolling, chairman of the finance committee, reported in favor of paying the police force $125 000 per annum, and advocated the passage of the sum asked.

Alderman Townsend said that the sum was entirely too much, and although he was in favor of the system, yet they were empowered to say how large the force should be, and he wanted the number reduced to a proper ratio in order to meet the depressed financial condition of the city.

Alderman Smith was entirely opposed to the city paying for the metropolitan police—they were the creatures of the legislature, and let them pay for them. He defended his position with an eloquent speech.

Alderman Shaw said that the aldermen of the present board were the appointees of the legislature and were alike the creatures of that body; he did not advocate the acts of the legislature, and they were acting under the authority of that body.

There was quite a lengthy discussion on every side, which did not bring forth any further opinions than expressed above.

Alderman Lynn moved to allow Commissioner Channing Richards to speak on the subject, as he could give the board all the information wanted in the premises.

Alderman Johnson seconded the motion.

Alderman Townsend objected. He thought that the board should understand how to manage their own business. The vote was then taken on the adoption, resulting as follows: ayes, Powers, Johnson, Cochrane, Wickersham, Lynn, Bolling, Holt, Shaw, Lemon, and Passmore. Nays, O'Donnell, Townsend and Smith.

After which Alderman Smith entered a protest in behalf of his constituency protesting against the action of the majority, which was read and entered in the books.

Alderman Townsend offered an ordinance in the shape of a resolution, making important changes in the regulation of the city hospital, placing that institution under the charge of five trustees to be elected by the board, which passed on its first reading. The suspension of the rules for its second reading was objected to by Alderman Smith.

The petition of Frazer Titus, asking for the payment of two thousand dollars for injuries done his property by turning the bayou from its original course, was referred to the finance committee.

The resolution of Alderman Smith proposing the paving of Main street was passed almost unanimously.

The removal of the Rotary engine was postponed until the next regular meeting of the board.

Alderman Smith withdrew his objection to the hospital ordinance, and it passed its second reading. The mayor nominated Messrs. [illegible] Magevney, Fletcher Lane, [illegible] Lewis, Wm. Chase and W. A. Bickford, which were approved by the board.

The mayor informed the board James Edmondson claims to own sixteen-and [illegible] dollars in the engine house on Adams street, and was willing to refer the matter to him and the city attorney for adjudication. Referral to city attorney for a revision of opinion.

NEGRO AFFECTION.—The bureau has taught the poor darkies to spend liberty in such a way that one of the benighted daughters of that institution yesterday thrashed her mother in good round style, for which she paid the sum of $15 and cost.

STOLE A MARCH ON TIME.—While a gentleman, on Monday last, was casting his vote for school visitor at No. 5 engine house, a fellow named Tom Downs stole a march on him by taking away his watch. He could not, however, put enough time between himself and the police, and was consequently landed in jail.

RETIRED.—We understand that John Ainslee, Esq., has retired from the presidency of the First German national bank. During his occupation of that important position, Mr. Ainslee has by his urbanity, courteousness and kindness, won the esteem of everyone with whom he came in contact. In his retiracy he carries with him the good wishes of all for his success in any undertaking he may choose to enter.

NIGGER CUT NIGGER.—A negro man was "cuttin up" in front of another nigger's barber shop, corner of Gayoso and DeSoto streets, yesterday morning, when the cullud gemman having charge of [illegible] ordered him out and told him to [illegible] where he refused. [illegible] he knocked him down and held him [illegible] nigger cut him in both arms with a razor, and made a thrust at his side, which the thickness of clothing prevented from doing any serious injury.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.—A quarterly report of this flourishing institution, under the management of F. T. Davis, Esq., president, and C. P. Norris, Esq., secretary, shows that during a quarter of unprecedented losses by the city generally, it has, by the energy and sagacity of its officers made a profit of $44,102 11 on a capital of $250,000, or at the rate of 88 per cent. per annum. This must be extremely satisfactory to the stockholders, and no compliment could be more flattering to its management. Mr. Davis is a gentleman who thoroughly understands the business, and has given the greatest evidence of this by his superior management during one of the most trying ordeals that the commercial prosperity of Memphis has ever undergone.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—A large and appreciative audience greeted M'lle Vestvali's second rendition of "Angelo," in the play of Bel Demonio. The greatest interest was manifested throughout the play, and bursts of applause resounded through the house at the drop of the curtain each time M'lle Vestvali certainly surpasses any star who has yet played upon the Memphis stage. Her singing was encore, and so enthusiastic was the audience that she was called before the curtain several times. She received excellent support from Lanegan and Wheelock, and many wondered that a man should be able to play a part so well as Mr. Wheelock did "Cardinal Montalto," who had probably never attempted it before.

FREE LUNCH EVERY DAY.—You who are fond of good eating and drinking go to Charley's Restaurant and Saloon two doors south of Madison street, Center alley, where free lunch is served everyday from 10 to 12 o'clock

"OLD PAP."—The noble and beloved veteran of the south, Maj. Gen. Sterling Price, was at our landing last evening on the steamer Olive Branch. Having been pardoned he has returned to the bosom of the people who love him as dearly as a child does its own father. "Old Pap!" How the words thrill the heart. God bless him! We knew that the heart of every true southern man will welcome back the old veteran with open arms. We have seen ragged and barefooted men follow him and never murmur—no never utter one complaint, because they were with "Pap," and they knew he would do the best he could for them. A glorious old man is he, and his noble deeds will never be forgotten while one southern heart beats to the music of this sunny clime.

THE FINE WEATHER.—No matter how fine the weather is the majority of people will have fire, and if the "stamps" are not at hand they will have it anyhow, to-wit: Messrs. Packard & Co., the coal dealers at the foot of Poplar street, have suffered by the depredations of thieves in this particular for some time past and endured the same till "endurance ceased to become a virtue." They not feeling able to stand such losses gave information to the police. The powers that be, detailed officer Scott to hunt up the guilty ones, who in a short space of time arrested Ann Lee and Catherine Quinn as receivers, and John Lee and Sarah Quinn, (white), and David Moore, (black), as the thieves. The quintette will have an interview with the police commissioners this morning.

THE ELEPHANT.—On Monday evening Mr. J. L. Leslie, a gentleman from Lafayette county, Miss., was looking round the city searching for the elephant, when his attention was attracted to a flaming picture on canvas, announcing the fact that elephants in endless variety, also other beasts of the forest, could be seen inside the tent by those desiring for the uniform sum of fifty cents. Mr. Leslie walked in to take a view of the elephant, which he did on a large scale, to the tune of $125; for it came to pass in that day that he was an elephant of a different nature from any he had ever seen before, the one in question having the ability to fleece its patrons of all the spare change they might have about their persons, and in this instance exercised its fascination on Mr. Leslie till he succumbed. As soon as he left the "shanty" he notified the police of the swindle that had been practiced upon him, when officer Selkirk was sent with him, and succeeded in getting the money refunded. Look out for elephants; this place has done swindling enough since it has been at this place, between Court and Jefferson, on Front street; and we warn our friends from the country to avoid it.

THE ARSON CASE.—The prosecution in this case ended yesterday and the defense commenced. The end will be probably reached to day.

POLICE COURTS.—Thirty-one names were on the roll at the northern police court this morning, $551 50 being assessed and $355 collected. Three individuals were up for selling liquor on Sunday, when two of them were fined fifty dollars each and appealed; the other was fined twenty-five dollars, and paid it like a man. Two fast drivers paid six dollars each for their fun. David Fuller and Mr. Jones, proprietors of gambling shops, put up the customary monthly forfeit of $100 for their appearance at court this morning, which was added to the police fund. At the southern police court fourteen cases were tried, and $107 collected. Three were arrested for stealing and sent to a magistrate's court; three got on a "bust" and paid eleven dollars for the fun of it; two fast young men forked over six dollars a piece for fast driving; one was fined for careless driving; two for assault; one for misdemeanor, and one for obtaining money under false pretenses.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

Redeers, published in yesterday's Avalanche, were adopted and ordered to be spread upon the minutes. Letters of administration were issued to Mary H. Chambers on the estate of her late husband, Wm. H. Chambers, she having given bond in the sum of $2500, with J. M. Thompson and C. C. Allen as her sureties. RIVER MATTERS.

Weather and Business.

The weather continues very pleasant. The rain indications which hung over us Monday night, did not come to anything liquid. The river at this point is falling and full of floating ice—that no doubt which gorged at Columbus. It is quite strong and sharp. At Cairo, the river is clear, with very little ice to St. Louis. At Louisville the river is still full of ice, but it is not heavy, and we think boats will leave there to-day, both for Cincinnati and southward bound. There is 6 feet in the canal and falling slowly.

Boats in Port.

J. S. McCune, Norman, Kenton, Guidon, Swallow, Sam Hale, David Watts, Lady, S. P. Webb, Commonwealth, Southerner.

Miscellaneous.

All the St. Louis boats in port got away yesterday morning except the Commonwealth. Capt Loyd "kinder has a hankerin" after this city, and knows it is a safer place to lay up than St. Louis. We indorse his taste, and hope he may remain with us as long as he finds it pleasant.

The Lady came in from Osceola with 174 bales and 70 sacks of cotton, besides 220 sacks of corn. The ice cleaned out her wheel but she will leave again as usual this morning.

The Sam Hale has 1366 bales engaged and will get away as soon as she can get through without danger.

The Swallow and Kenton will leave this morning we learn. The former has 770 bales, and the latter 750 bales, all for Cincinnati.

All our ice bound steamers got up steam and proceeded on their way yesterday towards the north pole. We hope they will get through without danger, and that when they have to again lay up on account of the hoary king, they may find as safe a habor as that of Memphis.

The river editors of the Louisville Democrat and Journal, are exchanging compliments. Don't get personal, gents. It's enough for one of the "gang" to carry an ornamental figure head. Vide, Bellshoover of the Republican.

Our esteemed and popular friend Tompkins, of the H. S. Turner, did not leave on the packet yesterday. He went up on the evening train and will meet the boat at Cairo.

Mr. Joshua Hardesty, steward of the steamer National, at New Orleans, offers $100 reward for the body of his brother, Mr. E. Hardesty, lost on the Fashion.

The Louisiana will hardly be recognized on her return to this port. She has had the gingerbread taken off her chimney toys.

The New Orleans Crescent of the 5th says: Capt. John Smoker yesterday became a purchaser of the steamer Louis D'Or. Capt. Smoker intends building for the machinery of the Louis D'Or. The terms were private. The wreck of the W. H. Osborn, which was offered for sale last Wednesday, was bought by Mr. M. S. Mepham. The price paid was $1200.

The Louisville Journal says: At the recent meeting of underwriters at Cincinnati, it was resolved that the boards would refuse to pay all insurance on fires caused by the use of coal oil. We have not seen this heretofore noticed, but have our authority from Capt. Shallcross of this city. It is an item of general interest to all steamboat men.

The New Orleans Picayune says: We learn that the owners of the steamers Peter Balen, Judge Fletcher, Fannie Scott and G. D. Palmer, have formed a line of weekly packets to Little Rock. One of the above boats will leave New Orleans every Saturday.

The Henrietta is the property of J. G. Bennett, jr. She was built in 1862 by Henry Steers, of Greenpoint, L. I., from a model by Mr. William Tooker, of this city. This beautiful vessel is of fore and aft schooner rig, and has a very deep keel. Her tonnage is two hundred and five tons; she is one hundred and eight feet long, has twenty-three feet beam, and ten feet depth of hold. She is a very beautiful model, her water lines being very fine and her entrance of more than usual elegance. In anticipation of the Atlantic race, the termination of which has so nobly proved her power of speed, the Henrietta underwent a complete overhauling and elaborate alteration. Her bowsprit was shortened, and also her lower mast and mainboom. She was also supplied with an entire new gang of rigging made of the first quality of Italian hemp; new fore and aft and jib-stays of charcoal wire, and an extra fore-stay which entered at her knightshead. Her hatches were rearranged, so that in five minutes they could be thoroughly caulked and [illegible], and her skylights were all caulked and battened down. Her decks [illegible] over the ballast was secured by extra sleepers, which were stanchioned under the deck in deep sockets. The "Henrietta" carried officers and men as follows: [illegible] Samuel [illegible]; sailing master [illegible]; first mate, John Cole; [illegible] carpenter, 1; sail maker, 1; [illegible], 2; stewards, 2; cooks, [illegible].

[illegible] The swift and elegant [illegible] will be in port this morning and leave at 5 p.m. for Cairo, Evansville and Louisville. The [illegible] is one of the most luxurious steamers afloat, and Capt. Roberts has not [illegible] a careful officer. Our popular and accomplished friend, Mr. M. [illegible] Conwell, has charge of the office. What more could a traveller want; Larry Harmstad & Co., agents.

FOR NEW ORLEANS.—The fine and safe packet Southerner, of which Capt. Dick Mason is commander, leaves this day as above, at 5 p.m. The Southerner, besides her many other qualities, is a Memphis boat and deserves our patronage. Mr. Hurd and Emmett Strange, both, it is said, are competent and polite officers, will be found on board. Jas. T. Bourne & Co., agents.

Messrs. McIlresh & Co. [illegible] shipped per steamer Celeste [illegible] point on the Arkansas [illegible] one aged about 18 and [illegible] and 16. FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, January 8, 1867.

Money matters have been tight during the week, although there has been an improvement in bills of small denominations, and the difficulty which existed at the close of last week in making change has been, to some extent, remedied. Gold has again become animated. Brokers offer 32c, but the amounts presented for sale are small.

In silver we have a slight rise to note. Buying at 24 to 26c.

City scrip is very dull and has declined materially since our last. Buying at 55c and selling at 60c.

There is some demand for county warrants, and brokers offer 92 to 93c—selling at 95c.

Exchange is dull. Our banks buy at ¼ to ½ off, and check at par to ¼ off.

In government securities we hear of no transactions.

We quote uncurrent money rather dull. The want of currency precludes speculation. Our brokers generally have all they need on hand. Our quotations below will be found accurate.

2:15 p.m.—Cotton irregular, and a shade lower, 35 to 37c; sales, 750 bales. Gold, 34¼.

4 p.m.—Gold closed at 34⅛.

LONDON, January 8, noon.—Consols, 91 for money. 5 20s, 72¾.

LIVERPOOL, January 8, noon.—Cotton quiet and steady; sales 8000 bales; middling uplands, 15¼.

WHO PAYS THE TAX.—Where does all this vast amount of money come from—this $800,000,000? From the rich men of our country? No! They are our bondholders and pay no tax. From the manufacturers? No! They have a protective tariff which gives them a monopoly of their fabrics—what tax they pay they add to the price of their goods, and get it all back when they sell them. Then where does it come from? From the laboring classes—the men who have neither government bonds nor manufactories—but who will till the soil, who consume the articles that are taxed, who wear them out or eat them up. They are the men who will pay all this vast sum of money out of the sweat of their brows. They not only pay this $800,000,000, but as much more. But how is that? inquires one. We certainly don't pay any more than the revenue amounts to! Certainly we do. We pay hundreds of millions into the pockets of manufacturers of which the government does not get a cent. We do it in this way: Say the cost of making a yard of cloth is eight cents, the tariff is six cents per yard. An English vessel arrives in Boston freighted with cotton cloth. The owner steps on shore and inquires what the duty is. He is told that it is six cents per yard. This added to the original cost of his cloth makes it cost him fourteen cents, and the expenses of bringing it across the Atlantic one cent more, so that when he goes into the market with his cloth, he is obliged to charge fifteen cents per yard to get his money back, and to make any profit he will have to charge seventeen cents a yard for his cargo. A Lowell manufacturer steps up and offers his goods—just as good, for fifteen cents, two cents less than the importer can sell at; and the result is the importer withdraws his bills from the custom-house and departs with his cargo. He pays no duty to the government, and the man who buys the Lowell man's cloth pays seven cents per yard more than it would cost him had there not been a duty on it. And the Lowell man pockets the amount. He gets the tariff and not the government. This is no fiction, it is exactly the case. Hence we derive no revenue from this class of goods, the duty being prohibitory, and yet the consumer pays seven cents tax on every yard of cotton cloth they buy, and it all goes to the manufacturer. Hence the high price of cotton goods, and yet not a cent of this additional price goes to pay the national debt. This [illegible] hold good [illegible] nearly everything the farmer uses. On all his implements of wood, iron, steel and brass. Their prices are enhanced, and yet no revenue accrues to them, because the high duties exclude foreign competition. Thus it will be seen that in addition to the $800,000,000 paid to the government, fully as much more is paid to the eastern manufacturers.

Weekly Review.

Business during the week past has not been of a cheering character. Cotton has been active throughout, and but for the closing of the river above, which put a stop to shipments, the transactions would have been heavier than at any time during the season. The dry goods business has been quiet with prices firm, and few changes to report since our last review. Produce, owing to the same cause that effected the cotton market—navigation—has advanced. The market has been bare of many articles, and in all, prices are firm at our quotations. The boot and shoe market has not changed, but has labored under the general quietness which has settled down upon all for the past two or three weeks. Our tobacco houses are doing a fair share of business. Their stocks are well selected and kept up. Cotton has ruled as follows since our last review:

WEDNESDAY—The market was active, and sales to a large amount were made at 31½ to 32c for middling. Receipts, 2400 bales; shipments, 2866 bales.

THURSDAY—We have no change to report in the cotton market, except that inquiry was not as active as on yesterday. We learned of several sales at 32c for middling, but buyers were not very anxious. This we account for from the uncertainty of being able to ship, owing to the close of the Ohio by ice. Receipts for the day, 1.69 bales; shipments, none.

FRIDAY—Owing to the ice in the rivers above, and the consequent inability to ship there were few transactions in cotton to-day. There was no change in price, however, and we do not change our quotations. The Liverpool dispatches of noon to-day, were received here in advance of time. They report the Liverpool market firm at 15½d, with sales of 15,000 bales. Receipts at this port to-day, 1668 bales; shipments, 1578 bales.

SATURDAY—There was not so much activity in the cotton market to-day. We have no change to report in prices. The receipts to-day amounted to 802 bales; shipments, 2000 bales.

MONDAY—The market continues quiet, owing entirely to the difficulty of shipping. Prices in New York are steady. We learned of a few sales of good sized lists at from 31 to 32c for middling. Receipts, 2517 bales; shipments, 338 bales.

TO-DAY—The market was not active and prices barely sustained. We do not change our quotations, but it took a better style of middling to realize 32c than on yesterday. Receipts for the day, 1904 bales; shipments for the same time, 1539 bales. Receipts for the week, 9461 bales; shipments for the same time, 8321 bales.

The estimated receipts at all the seaports up to January 1, 1867, including old crop on hand, were 1,042,585 bales. Of this amount there has been exported and taken for manufacturers account, 635,201 bales, leaving a stock of 407,384 bales on hand. The amount of old crop on September 1st is estimated at 272,861 bales.

We learn that there will be a general suspension of the iron and nail mills at Pittsburg and vicinity, on and after the fifth of this month. This step was fully determined on by a convention of the iron men of Pennsylvania, recently held in Pittsburg. What effect this will have upon our market here remains to be seen.

HAVE CONSOLIDATED THE TWO STORES above and removed the entire stock of Gilbert & Higbee to the large and commodious

DRUG WAREHOUSE

Of S. Mansfield & Co.,

Nos. 301 and 303 Main St.

Having this day disposed of my interest in the Drug Store of Gilbert & Higbee to MANSFIELD & HIGBEE, I most cordially recommend them to my friends, and earnestly bespeak for them a continuance of the liberal patronage extended to our old firm. Well satisfied of their business acquirements and skill as Druggists, I wish for them the same success which has attended the late partnership of Gilbert & Higbee. DR. S. GILBERT.

This combination forms the most complete Drug Emporium south of New York, where every facility will now be offered the purchaser of buying goods in our line at manufacturers' prices.

We cordially invite and direct the special attention of all persons to this establishment before making their purchases either in the East or West, as our object and aim shall be to provide a HOME MARKET, and to defy competition with all other cities.

Our Stock of Goods is Perfect and Complete at All Times.

Our experience in the trade of Memphis is such that we understand and know the wants of Druggists, Physicians, Merchants, Builders, Manufacturers, Planters and others.

We shall have in our employ none but the most experienced Clerks and assistants. All our arrangements will enable us to render perfect and complete satisfaction.

Thankful for the liberal and extensive patronage bestowed upon us heretofore by the citizens of Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas, and the territory west, we hope by constant attention to our own business to merit and receive an increasing continuance.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE BURIAL OF LOVE.

BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

Two dark-eyed maids, at shut of day,
Sat where a river rolled away,
With calm, sad brows and raven hair;
And one was pale and both were fair.

Bring flowers, they sang, bring flowers unblown;
Bring forest blooms of name unknown;
Bring budding sprays from wood and wild,
To strew the bier of Love, the child.

Close softly, fondly, while ye weep,
His eyes, that death may seem like sleep;
And fold his hands, in sign of rest,
His waxen hands across his breast.

And make his grave where violets hide,
Where star-flowers strew the rivulet's side,
And blue birds, in the misty spring,
Of cloudless skies and summer sing.

Place near him, as ye lay him low,
His idle shafts, his loosened bow,
The silken fillet that around
His waggish eyes in sport he wound.

But we shall mourn him long, and miss
His ready smile, his ready kiss,
The patter of his little feet,
Sweet frowns and stammered phrases sweet.

And graver looks, serene and high,
A light of heaven in that young eye;
All these shall haunt us till the heart
Shall ache and ache—and tears will start.

The bow, the band, shall fall to dust;
The shining arrows waste with rust;
And all of Love that earth can claim,
Be but a memory and a name.

Not thus his nobler part shall dwell,
A prisoner in this narrow cell;
But he whom now we hide from men
In the dark ground, shall live again—

Shall break these clods, a form of light,
With nobler mien and purer sight,
And in the eternal glory-stand,
Highest and nearest God's right hand.

Sec. 7. That no license which may be issued under the authority of this ordinance, or other city ordinance, shall embrace or authorize more than one business pursuit or avocation; and all persons desiring to pursue or carry on more than one pursuit or occupation, shall take out a separate and distinct license for each pursuit, and pay the full tax required by city ordinance for each one.

Sec. 8. That for all licences for which specific sums are charged, the parties obtaining such licenses shall not give bond and security except in such cases as may be otherwise provided by city ordinance.

A CARD

To the General Traveling Public

—AND—

My Old Friends and Guests.

I THINK it hardly worth while to say to you that I never have been one in anything I have attempted to do in the way of catering to the public from the earliest day I reached this bluff. To the citizens interested, also, I have to say that I will not trail or follow in the wake of any establishment now—time will show who does. We are all clean, and if the "unequaled" party is in earnest and mean what they say, we will have at least two good hotels in Memphis.

Very respectfully,
D. COCKRELL.

LOSS BY PORTLAND FIRE, JULY 4.

The total amount covered by the Ætna Policies on property destroyed or damaged is $306,854, on which salvage will be about five per cent. Our total loss will not vary much from $290,000, and was promptly adjusted and paid. This sum is five per cent. upon the company's assets, a figure but slightly exceeding our government and State taxes paid last year, or a proportion equal to a $5000 loss for a company of $100,000 assets.

The necessity for insurance and the value of wealthy, strong corporations is forcibly illustrated by this fire. Several weak insurance companies are destroyed. Portland has a population of 35,000—was handsomely built of mostly fine brick or stone structures—protected and screened with upward of 3000 shade trees—bounded on three sides by water—indeed, literally, almost rising from the ocean—and with a steam fire department—yet it has $10,000,000 of property consumed in a few hours—upon a holiday when its people are least occupied—from the very insignificant cause of a contemptible fire cracker.

Remember the trifling origin of fires that sweep away in a few hours the earnings of years. Consider your best interest and give the Ætna Agent a call if you need proper insurance security. Pay a fair rate of premium for a good and genuine article and with these lights and experiences before you, procure your insurance with shrewd judgment.

MEDICAL.

USE GALLIGHAN'S PILLS FOR CHILLS & FEVER. A CERTAIN CURE.

GALLIGHAN'S PILLS are composed simply of Vegetable Medicines. They are Cathartic Pills, acting upon the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels; containing no Arsenic, Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Mineral substance. The great advantage the Proprietors claim for these Pills is that, without the aid of Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Minerals, they will cure the most obstinate cases of CHILLS AND FEVER, DUMB AGUE, PERIODICAL HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, and all affections of a like character. Follow the directions, and you will find they will do all that is claimed for them. Try one box, and their own merits will recommend them ever afterwards.

We have used Gallighan's Pills, and have never known them to fail to cure when the directions were followed, and unhesitatingly recommend them to public favor.

GROVER & BAKER'S
CELEBRATED
Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch

SEWING MACHINES!

Why Grover & Baker's Machine is Best

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no re-winding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is strong and elastic that it never breaks, even in the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in its wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garment, after proper inspection without picking or cutting them.
9. Washing and varying the tensions upon the threads, necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker Machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change or arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

The attention of Tailors, Manufacturers of Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Carriage Trimmers and all others requiring the best and most effective Lock-stitch Machines, is invited to our new Shuttle Machine, especially adapted to Manufacturing purposes.
